A 'big' thank you from National Flexible

I am writing to you – a valued supplier to National Flexible – to thank you for your support during this difficult period.

The food packaging industry has not seen such a period of intense disruption and difficulties, except in wartime. As well as the very many supply chain issues, there is also the big task of ensuring our people are kept as safe as possible. It is an incredibly challenging situation for us all.

I want to thank you and your colleagues for the way you have responded to this crisis and supported our business. Together, we have been helping to keep families and communities fed, including essential workers such as in the NHS.

At National Flexible we always want to have good, long term partnerships with our suppliers. Times like this highlight the importance and value of strong relationships and the support of our supply base has been vital as we have managed this crisis. I also think we will need your support and assistance further in the coming weeks and months.

Please pass on our appreciation and thanks to all your colleagues. We enclose a thank you note in poster form which you may want to display in your production areas. Please also feel free to share this letter with your workforce.

Thank you again for your support and let us hope this situation comes to a speedy resolution.

Yours sincerely

George
